Swig's New Leasing Chief

Swig Equities has appointed former Cushman & Wakefield broker Jonathan Dean as a senior vice president and director of commercial leasing at the firm.

Mr. Dean, a 25-year commercial real estate veteran who most recently worked at Jack Resnick & Sons as a managing director, will be responsible for the leasing activity of all commercial office properties at Swig Equities, which totals more than 3 million square feet, including at 110 William Street and 48 Wall Street.

“Jonathon is an extremely talented real estate professional who has been an active player in commercial real estate in New York City for over 20 years,” said Kent Swig, the firm’s president, in a statement. “During his tenure at Cushman & Wakefield, he served as the exclusive leasing agent for many of our properties and worked directly on a number of transactions involving Swig Equities’ portfolio. His knowledge of both our portfolio and tenants makes him an extremely valuable addition to our company.”
